Our Staff are empowered to help you and will aim to resolve most issues within three business days of receiving your complaint. If your complaint can't be resolved within three business days, we'll write to you within 5 days to let you know what the next steps are.

We'll fully investigate your complaint using all of the information available to us and will address any problems as quickly as we can. We aim to provide our final response to you within four weeks of the date you complained but sometimes it can take us a little longer, if this happens we'll write to you with an update about when you can expect a response from us.

If we don't issue our response to you within eight weeks of the date you complained, or if we do but you aren't happy with our response, you may be able to refer your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman to look into things further for you. To use their service you must refer your complaint to them within six months of the date of our final response letter. If you don't let them know about your complaint in time, the Financial Ombudsman Service won't have our permission to review your complaint further and will only be able to do so if they believe that the delay in referring your complaint was as a result of exceptional circumstances.

If you purchased your policy online, the European Commission under EU regulation provides an online dispute resolution platform to help you raise a complaint.
